Privacy Policy

X

Apple Privacy Policy Updated July 30, 2025

Apple's Privacy Policy describes how Apple collects, uses, and shares your personal data.

In addition to this Privacy Policy, we provide data and privacy information embedded in our products and certain features that ask to use your personal data. This product-specific information is accompanied by our Data & Privacy Icon. You will be given an opportunity to review this product-specific information at any time, either in settings related to those features and/or online at apple.com/legal/privacy/data. You can familiarize yourself with our privacy practices, accessible via the information before using these features. You also can view this headings below, and contact us if you have any questions. Download a copy of this Privacy Policy (PDF) Your California Privacy Disclosures > Information Regarding Commercial Electronic Messages in Canada >

Consumer Health Personal Data Privacy Policy > Apple Health Study Apps Privacy Policy >

What Is Personal Data at Apple? At Apple, we believe strongly in fundamental privacy rights — and that those fundamental rights should not differ depending on where you live in the world. That's why we treat any data that relates to an identified or identifiable individual or that is linked or linkable to them by Apple as "personal data," no matter where the individual lives. This means that data that directly identifies you — such as your name — is personal data, and also data that does not directly identify you, but that can

This Privacy Policy covers how Apple or an Apple-affiliated company (collectively, "Apple") handles personal data whether you interact with us on our websites, through Apple apps (such as Apple Music or Wallet), or in person (including by phone or when visiting an Apple Store). Apple may also link to third parties on our services or make third-party apps available for download in our App Store. Apple's Privacy Policy does not apply to how third parties define personal data or how they use it. We encourage reasonably be used to identify you — such as the serial number of your device — is personal data. Aggregated data is you to read their privacy policies and know your privacy rights before interacting with them.

considered non-personal data for the purposes of this Privacy Policy.

X Your Privacy Rights at Apple At Apple, we respect your ability to know, access, correct, transfer, restrict the processing of, and delete your personal data. We have provided these rights to our global customer base and if you choose to exercise these privacy rights, you have the right not to be treated in a discriminatory way nor to receive a lesser degree of service from Apple. Where you are requested to consent to the processing of your personal data by Apple, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.

visit the Apple Data and Privacy page at privacy.apple.com for Apple or shazam.com/privacy for Shazam. To help protect the security of your personal data, you must sign in to your account and your identity will be verified. If you want to obtain a copy of personal data that is not currently available from privacy.apple.com, you can make a request at apple.com/legal/privacy/contact. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the applicable regulator. There may be situations where we cannot grant your request — for example, if you ask us to delete your transaction data and Apple is legally obligated to keep a record of that transaction to comply with law. We may also decline to grant a request where doing so would undermine our legitimate use of data for anti-fraud and security purposes, such as when you request deletion of an account that is being investigated for security concerns. Other reasons your privacy request may be denied are if it jeopardizes the privacy of others, is frivolous or vexatious, or would be extremely impractical or unreasonable.

To exercise your privacy rights and choices, including where a third-party service provider is acting on Apple's behalf, at apple.com/legal/privacy/contact or by calling 1-800-275-2273. For more information on exercising your rights, visit support.apple.com/102283. X Personal Data Apple Collects from You

If you live in California and you cannot access Apple's Data and Privacy page, you or your authorized agent can make a request

 Account Information. Your Apple Account and related account details, including email address, devices registered, account status, and age o Device Information. Data from which your device could be identified, such as device serial number, or about your device, • Contact Information. Data such as name, email address, physical address, phone number, or other contact information

Payment Information. Data about your billing address and method of payment, such as bank details, credit, debit, Transaction Information. Data about purchases of Apple products and services or transactions facilitated by Apple, • Usage Data. Data about your activity on and use of our offerings, such as app launches within our services, including browsing history; search history; product interaction; crash data, performance and other diagnostic data; and other usage

• Fraud Prevention Information. Data used to help identify and prevent fraud, including a device trust score

 Location Information. Precise location only to support services such as Find My or where you agree for region-specific services, and coarse location Health Information. Data relating to the health status of an individual, including data related to one's physical or mental health or condition. Personal health data also includes data that can be used to make inferences about or detect the Financial Information. Details including salary, income, and assets information where collected, and information related o Government ID Data. In certain jurisdictions, we may ask for a government-issued ID in limited circumstances, including when setting up a wireless account and activating your device, for the purpose of extending commercial credit, managing

• Fitness Information. Details relating to your fitness and exercise information where you choose to share them the privacy of your personal data is described in the Apple Health Study Apps Privacy Policy.

we will not be able to provide you with our products or services or respond to requests you may have.

health status of an individual. If you participate in a study using an Apple Health Research Study app, the policy governing

- o Other Information You Provide to Us. Details such as the content of your communications with Apple, including interactions with customer support and contacts through social media channels You are not required to provide the personal data that we have requested. However, if you choose not to do so, in many cases
 - At Your Direction. You may direct other individuals or third parties to share data with Apple. For example, you may direct your mobile carrier to share data about your carrier account with Apple for account activation, or for your loyalty program to share information about your participation so that you can earn rewards for Apple purchases. • Apple Partners. We may also validate the information you provide — for example, when creating an Apple Account, with a third party for security, and for fraud-prevention purposes.

To power features such as search and as a source for our foundational AI models, Apple uses Applebot, a web crawler, to crawl information that is publicly available on the internet. We have measures in place to reduce the amount of personal data we private personal data is not used to train our foundational AI models. To exercise your right as an individual to opt out of processing, visit the Apple Intelligence Privacy Inquiries form. For more information about Applebot, visit collect and make no attempt to connect data crawled to any individual Apple user, or to build profiles about individuals. Your not attempt to reidentify individuals who may appear therein.

Apple uses personal data to power our services, to process your transactions, to communicate with you, for security

Apple uses your personal data only when we have a valid legal basis to do so. Depending on the circumstance, Apple may and fraud prevention, and to comply with law. We may also use personal data for other purposes with your consent.

rely on your consent or the fact that the processing is necessary to fulfill a contract with you, protect your vital interests or legitimate interests, taking into consideration your interests, rights, and expectations. More information is available in the basis, you can contact the Data Protection Officer at apple.com/legal/privacy/contact.

those of other persons, or to comply with law. We may also process your personal data where we believe it is in our or others' product-specific information embedded in our products and features as described above. If you have questions about the legal o Power Our Services. Apple collects personal data necessary to power our services, which may include personal data collected to improve our offerings, for internal purposes such as auditing or data analysis, or for troubleshooting. For

X

X

X

X

payment information. • Communicate with You. To respond to communications, reach out to you about your transactions or account, market our products and services, provide other relevant information, or request information or feedback. From time to time, we may use your personal data to send important notices, such as communications about purchases and changes to our terms, conditions, and policies. Because this information is important to your interaction with Apple, you may not opt out of receiving these important notices.

• Security and Fraud Prevention. To protect individuals, employees, and Apple and for loss prevention and to prevent

• Personal Data Used for Personalization. If you choose to personalize your services or communications where such options are available, Apple will use information that we collect so that we can offer you those personalized services or reviewing the privacy information presented when you first use a service that asks to use your personal data. We make this information easy to find by presenting it with our Data & Privacy icon; it's also available at all times on your Apple communications. You can learn more about how relevant services use information to personalize your experience by uploaded content for potentially illegal content, including child sexual exploitation material.

device and online at apple.com/legal/privacy/data.

Apple's Sharing of Personal Data must delete or return the personal data once they've fulfilled our request.

Protection of Personal Data at Apple their own marketing purposes.

protect your personal data.

Apple Platform Security guide.

sign in to their account.

cookies are disabled.

personal data for purposes of this Privacy Policy.

Children and Personal Data

Cookies and Other Technologies fraud, including to protect individuals, employees, and Apple for the benefit of all our users, and prescreening or scanning

Apple retains personal data only for so long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, including as described in this Privacy Policy or in our service-specific privacy notices, or as required by law. We will retain your personal data for the period necessary to fulfill the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy and our service-specific privacy notices. When assessing retention periods, we first carefully examine whether it is necessary to retain the personal data collected and, if retention is required, work to retain the personal data for the shortest possible period permissible under law.

Apple may share personal data with Apple-affiliated companies, service providers who act on our behalf, our partners, developers, and publishers, or others at your direction. Further, Apple does not share personal data with third parties for Service Providers. Apple may engage third parties to act as our service providers and perform certain tasks on our behalf, such as processing or storing data, including personal data, in connection with your use of our services and delivering products to customers. Apple service providers are obligated to handle personal data consistent with this

• Partners. At times, Apple may partner with third parties to provide services or other offerings. For example, Apple Privacy Policy and according to our instructions. They cannot use the personal data we share for their own purposes and

- information with your carrier to activate your account. We may also disclose information about you if we determine that for purposes of national security, law enforcement, or other issues of public importance, disclosure is necessary or appropriate. We may also disclose information about you where there is a lawful basis for doing so, if we determine that disclosure is reasonably necessary to enforce our terms and conditions or to protect our operations or users, or in the event of a reorganization, merger, or sale. Apple does not sell your personal data including as "sale" is defined in Nevada and California. Apple also does not "share" your personal data as that term is defined in California.
- Apple's websites, online services, interactive applications, and advertisements may use "cookies" and other technologies such as web beacons. These technologies help us to better understand user behavior including for security and fraud prevention purposes, tell us which parts of our websites people have visited, and facilitate and measure the effectiveness of advertisements and web searches. o Communications Cookies. These cookies are used to enable network traffic to and from Apple's systems, including by
- Transfer of Personal Data Between Countries X Apple products and offerings connect you to the world. To make that possible, your personal data may be transferred to or accessed by entities around the world, including Apple-affiliated companies, to perform processing activities such as those described in this Privacy Policy in connection with your use of our products and services. Apple complies with laws on the

The Apple entity that controls your personal data may differ depending on where you live. For example, Apple Store jurisdiction. For example, Imagery and associated data collected by Apple around the world to improve Apple Maps and to information is controlled by individual retail entities in each country and Apple Media Services-related personal data may be controlled by various Apple entities as reflected in the terms of service. If you do not reside in the U.S., your personal data may be processed by Apple Inc. and other Apple-affiliated companies on behalf of the Apple entity controlling personal data for your Personal data relating to individuals in the European Economic Area, the United Kingdom, and Switzerland is controlled by Apple Distribution International Limited in Ireland. Apple's international transfer of personal data collected in the European Economic Area, the United Kingdom, and Switzerland is governed by Standard Contractual Clauses. If you have questions or would like a Personal data collected by Apple or an Apple-affiliated company worldwide is generally stored by Apple Inc. in the United States. Regardless of where your personal data is stored, Apple maintains the same high level of protection and safeguarding

For more information about Apple-delivered advertising and privacy, visit apple.com/legal/privacy/data/ww/apple-advertising.

- X Our Companywide Commitment to Your Privacy To make sure your personal data is secure, we communicate our privacy and security guidelines to Apple employees and strictly enforce privacy safeguards within the company.
- You may at any time including if you are not satisfied with Apple's response refer your complaint to the applicable regulator. If you ask us, we will endeavor to provide you with information about relevant complaint avenues which may be applicable to your circumstances. When there is a material change to this Privacy Policy, we'll post a notice on this website at least a week in advance of doing so and contact you directly about the change if we have your data on file.

Overview

Overview

At Apple, we believe that you can have great products and great privacy. This means that we strive to collect only the personal data that we need. The personal data Apple collects depends on how you interact with Apple. Descriptions of how Apple handles personal data for certain individual services are available at apple.com/legal/privacy/data. When you create an Apple Account, apply for commercial credit, purchase and/or activate a product or device, download a software update, register for a class at an Apple Store, connect to our services, contact us (including by social media), participate in an online survey, or otherwise interact with Apple, we may collect a variety of information, including:

such as browser type

data or other payment card information including purchases on Apple platforms to Apple-branded financial offerings reservations, or as required by law from other lawful sources.

support.apple.com/120320.

Apple's Use of Personal Data

Personal Data Apple Receives from Other Sources X

Apple may receive personal data about you from other individuals, from businesses or third parties acting at your direction, from our partners who work with us to provide our products and services and assist us in security and fraud prevention, and o Individuals. Apple may collect data about you from other individuals — for example, if that individual has sent you a product or gift card, invited you to participate in an Apple service or forum, or shared content with you.

- For research and development purposes, we may use datasets such as those that contain images, voices, or other data that could be associated with an identifiable person. When acquiring such datasets, we do so in accordance with applicable law, including law in the jurisdiction in which the dataset is hosted. When using such datasets for research and development, we do
 - example, if you would like to access a song through an Apple Music subscription, we collect data on what songs you play in order to provide you with the content requested and for royalty purposes. • Process Your Transactions. To process transactions, Apple must collect data such as your name, purchase, and

• Comply with Law. To comply with applicable law — for example, to satisfy tax or reporting obligations, or to comply with a lawful governmental request. Apple does not use algorithms or profiling to make any decision that would significantly affect you without the opportunity for human review. Apple also does not use or disclose sensitive personal data for any purposes that would require a user to exercise a right to limit processing according to California law.

o Developers and Publishers from Whom You Get a Subscription. If you purchase a third-party subscription from the App Store or within Apple News, we create a Subscriber ID that is unique to you and the developer or publisher. The Subscriber ID may be used to provide reports to the developer or publisher, which include information about the subscription you purchased and your country of residence. If you cancel all of your subscriptions from a particular developer or publisher, the Subscriber ID will reset after 180 days if you do not resubscribe. This information is provided o Others. Apple may share personal data with others at your direction or with your consent, such as when we share to developers or publishers so that they can understand the performance of their subscriptions.

financial offerings like Apple Card and Apple Cash are offered by Apple and our partners. Apple requires its partners to Apple understands the importance of safeguarding the personal data of children, which we consider to be an individual under the age of 13 or the equivalent age as specified by law in your jurisdiction. That is why Apple has implemented additional processes and protections to help keep children's personal data safe. To access certain Apple services, a child must have a child Apple Account. A child Apple Account may be created by the parent or, in the case of a Managed Apple Account, by the child's educational institution.

o Parents. To create a child account, parents must review the Family Privacy Disclosure for Children, which describes how Apple handles children's personal data. If they agree, the parent must provide Apple with a verifiable parental consent.

• Educational Institutions. Educational institutions that participate in the Apple School Manager Program may also create Apple IDs for students, called "Managed Apple IDs." These schools are required to agree to the Managed Apple IDs for

If we learn that a child's personal data was collected without appropriate authorization, it will be deleted as soon as possible.

To exercise privacy rights for your child's information, visit the Apple Data and Privacy page at privacy.apple.com and Students Disclosure which is included as Exhibit A to the Apple School Manager Agreement.

At Apple, we believe that great privacy rests on great security. We use administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect your personal data, taking into account the nature of the personal data and the processing, and the threats posed. We are constantly working to improve on these safeguards to help keep your personal data secure. For more information, visit our helping us detect any errors. • Strictly Necessary Cookies. These cookies are set as required to provide a specific feature or service that you have accessed or requested. For example, they allow us to display our websites in the proper format and language, to authenticate and verify your transactions, and to preserve the contents of your Bag when shopping online at apple.com.

• Other Cookies. These cookies are used to understand how visitors interact with our websites and online services,

If you prefer that Apple not use cookies, we provide you with the means to disable their use. If you want to disable cookies and you're using the Safari web browser, choose "Block all cookies" in Safari's privacy settings. If you are using a different browser,

In some email messages Apple sends to you, we provide a "click-through URL" that links you to content on the Apple website.

When you click one of these URLs, they pass through a separate server before arriving at the destination page on our website.

We track this click-through to help us determine interest in particular topics and measure whether we are communicating with Apple generally treats data we collect using these cookies and similar technologies as non-personal data. However, to the extent that Internet Protocol (IP) addresses or similar identifiers are considered personal data by local law, we also treat these identifiers as personal data in those regions. In addition, Apple sometimes combines non-personal data collected from these technologies with other personal data Apple holds. When we combine data in this way, we treat the combined data as

Ads that are delivered by Apple's advertising platform may appear on the App Store, Apple News, Stocks, and Apple TV app depending on your location. Apple's advertising platform does not track you, meaning that it does not link user or device data collected from our apps with user or device data collected from third parties for targeted advertising or advertising you effectively. If you prefer not to be tracked in this way, you should not click graphic or text links in email messages.

check with your provider to find out how to disable cookies. Certain features of the Apple website may not be available if all to remember choices you make while browsing, so we can provide you with a customized experience.

In addition to cookies, Apple uses other technologies that help us achieve similar objectives.

measurement purposes, and does not share user or device data with data brokers.

including by helping us to assess the effectiveness of advertisements and web searches. Apple also uses these cookies

If you do not want to receive ads targeted to your interests from Apple's advertising platform in those apps, you can choose to disable Personalized Ads, which will opt your Apple Account out of receiving such ads regardless of what device you are using. On your iOS, iPadOS, or visionOS device, you can disable Personalized Ads by going to Settings > Privacy & Security > Apple Advertising and tapping to turn off Personalized Ads. On your Mac, you can disable Personalized Ads by going to System

Apple News, or Stocks based on context like your search query or the channel you are reading. If you disable Allow Apps to Request to Track, third-party apps cannot request to use the Advertising Identifier, a non-personal identifier served by the operating system on your device, to track you across apps and websites owned by other companies.

transfer of personal data between countries to help ensure your data is protected, wherever it may be.

copy of Apple's Standard Contractual Clauses, you can contact us at apple.com/legal/privacy/contact.

support our Look Around feature is transferred to Apple Inc. in California.

official seals below.

Mainland Privacy Disclosures.

know that we need more time to respond.

Settings > Privacy & Security > Privacy > Advertising, then deselecting Personalized Ads. You may still see ads in the App Store, measures. Apple's privacy practices, as described in this Privacy Policy, comply with the Global Cross-Border Privacy Rules (CBPR) System and the Global Privacy Recognition for Processors (PRP) System. For more information about the Global CBPR and PRP Systems, visit Global CBPR Forum. To view our certifications, visit Global CBPR System Directory. For more information about the scope of our participation, or to submit a privacy inquiry through BBB National Programs, our Accountability Agent, click the Personal data relating to individuals in the People's Republic of China may be processed by Apple in countries outside of the People's Republic of China, such as Apple Inc. in the United States or Apple Distribution International Limited in the Republic of Ireland. Where this occurs, it will be done in compliance with local laws, including the Personal Information Protection Law. For providers, who may in turn store or transfer the data outside of the People's Republic of China. For more information, visit China the purposes of processing set out in this Privacy Policy, Apple may also transfer such personal data to third-party service

X Privacy Questions If you have questions about Apple's Privacy Policy or privacy practices including where a third-party service provider is acting on our behalf, or you would like to contact our Data Protection Officer, you can contact us at apple.com/legal/privacy/contact or call the Apple Support number for your country or region. You can also ask us questions about how to submit a privacy complaint and we will endeavor to help. Apple takes your privacy questions seriously. A dedicated team reviews your inquiry to determine how best to respond to your question or concern, including those inquiries received in response to an access or download request. In most cases, all substantive contacts receive a response within seven days. In other cases, we may require additional information or let you

Where your complaint indicates an improvement could be made in our handling of privacy issues, we will take steps to make such an update at the next reasonable opportunity. In the event that a privacy issue has resulted in a negative impact on you or

- The Global CBPR System Certification Mark and Global PRP System Certification Mark™ are trademarks of the International
- Trade Administration/Office of Global Data Policy and Privacy, used with permission. ■ Legal Privacy Policy Apple Privacy Policy Hardware and Software Sales & Support Internet Services Intellectual Property

another person, we will take steps to address that with you or that other person.

- TestFlight Terms and Conditions Sales Policies Unsolicited Idea Submission Policy Privacy Policy Certification Agreements and Education Website Terms of Use Policies Apple Gift Card Terms and
- Apple Bag Check Class Action and Conditions Settlement Support Communities Terms Foreman Class Action Settlement of Use More ways to shop: Find an Apple Store or other retailer near you. Or call 1-800-MY-APPLE.

Software License Agreements AppleCare Apple Media Services Terms and Guidelines for Using Apple Conditions Trademarks and Copyrights Repair Terms and Conditions RF Exposure Apple Gift Card Terms and Trademarks Express Replacement Service Conditions More Resources Rights and Permissions Remote Support Terms iCloud Terms of Service Overview and Conditions(PDF) Piracy Prevention

Government Information Requests

Overview

Hardware Warranties

Copyright © 2025 Apple Inc. All rights reserved. Privacy Policy | Terms of Use | Sales and Refunds | Legal | Site Map

Global Trade Compliance Apple School Manager Supplier Provisions Conditions Filemaker Legal Information Enterprise Training Service Terms Apple Business Manager Data Transfer Agreements United States

Contact Apple Legal